"THE HUNTER KING"

(Dedicated to Adam Jackson, "The Hunter King," Liddisdale, Scotland. See X188, Chapter G)

Brave King of the Huntsmen—we'll sing of thy glory,
Old Chief of the border, our praise is thy due.
Thy years may be many, thy locks may be hoary
But young is the heart, that is honest and true.

O! Still canst thou ride tho the weather's not charming,
Tho white are the mountains, and hie thee away,
False Reynard soon hears the halloo so alarming,
That rings the death knell while his dawning is grey.

O where is the huntsman in Tyne or in Teviot,
In England or Scotland that's equal to thee?
Thy fame loudly rings from the Solway to Cheviot
Through all the wide borders by moorland and lea.

Thy feats are well known on the wastes of the Humber,
Thy shouts have been heard on the banks of the Tweed.
But where is the Fox that can hear them and slumber,
The shouts of the huntsman of Liddisdale Head?

Long life to the rider, and fame be attendant.
The joys of the chase do thou never forget.
Thou prince of good fellows, thou soul independent,
Thou hearty old hero—success to thee yet.

Along on thy mountains where blooms the brown heather,
By rock, scaur, or fountain, or dark lonely glen,
Mayst thou sally forth all regardless of weather
And capture the fugitive Fox in his den.

And long may the Shepherds who live on the Border,
Rejoice when they meet you, when brightens the sky,
To join the halloo and the merry disorder,
While hunting is warm and the hounds are in cry.

Come, fill up a bumper, we'll pledge thee in glory,
Tho links of green Liddle in echo shall ring,
Thy years may be many; thy locks may be hoary,
O! young is thy heart yet—our brave Hunter King.

BATTLE HYMN OF THE JACKSONS

(Tune: Battle Hymn of the Republic)

There's something strong and mighty in a good old family name;
The name of Jackson shineth high upon the scroll of fame;
For nearly all the Jacksons have pursued a lofty aim.
The clan goes marching on!

Chorus: Glory to the name of Jackson!
Glory to the tribe of Jackson!
Hurrah, hurrah, for all the Jacksons!
The clan goes marching on.

Henry, Adam, John and "Nick" were fathers of our clan.
Stonewall, John and William were heroes who never ran.
"Old Hickory," the President, was brave and famous man.
The clan goes marching on!

The Jackson blood is mingled with the royal bloods of old.
Each century our numbers have increased a hundred fold.
Among the world's great families our family is pure gold.
The clan goes marching on!

The House of Jackson cherishes traditions of the past,
With the world's great movements they have all their fortunes cast;
And when they pledge their honor they are loyal to the last.
The clan goes marching on!

The Jacksons fought at Flodden, Fredericksburg and Waterloo;
In every righteous cause our kinsmen fought as heroes do;
They died in seventeen seventy-six, and nineteen eighteen, too.
The clan goes marching on!

We have our dukes and peasants, common folk and blue bloods, too;
We greet each other with a smile and "Cousin, howdy-do!"
This goes with all the Jacksons and it goes with me and you.
The clan goes marching on!

To every corner of our land we sound the bugle call;
Four hundred thousand cousins hear and answer one and all;
The echo of their footstep's like Niagara's waterfall.
The clan goes marching on!

We must prove worthy of our place on Jackson Family Tree
Let Jackson standards with the highest in the world agree.
We owe a duty to the generations yet to be.
The clan goes marching on!

(A) INTRODUCTION

The Jackson Family is among the forty-nine "best families" selected by the American Historical-Genealogical Society for whom the Society has published family histories during the past few years.

The Jackson Family has been prominent in the British Empire and in the United States, its members having played important roles in war and in peace. Family pride is a commendable trait and should be cultivated. All Jackssons have just cause to be proud of their family history and traditions.

In reference No. 14 we find the following regarding the origin and meaning of the name Jackson:

The surnames from "John" are very numerous for, though "John" itself is rarely used as a family name, its many derivations are familiar to all languages.

From the name "John" developed the ever-popular and universal "Jack," which gave us "Jackson" or "son of Jack." In the very ancient days a man was "Jack" until his real name was learned. Thus we had "Jack-of-all-trades"—and he was always considered a knowing, clever and sharp-witted fellow.

"John," "Jack," "Jackson" and the various other forms of the name have a prominent and distinguished position in the annals of English nomenclature.

The data in this volume is gathered from reliable sources. We have selected what we consider the most important material. Many of the daughters, and sons for whom no issue was shown, have been omitted from the pedigrees. A missing symbol indicates that a name has been omitted. Those desiring further information are advised to consult the volumes mentioned in the list of References.

The compiler hopes that, in producing this volume, he is bringing to the Jackson Family information which will be of interest and value to them, and that he is rendering an important service to the public. He and his associates will be glad to give their co-operation to members of the family who are interested in having a complete genealogy of the family published.

Unless otherwise plainly shown, the persons in this volume whose names are accompanied by three figures are children of the immediately preceding persons bearing immediately preceding numbers. All persons in each group bearing the same letter as a part of their numbers are directly related. The generations of the descendants of those bearing numbers of three figures are represented as follows. However, some of our material is published as copied from various records without rearrangement according to this system.

Generations	1st	2nd	3rd	4th	5th

(B) THE JACKSON COAT OF ARMS

A Coat of Arms is an emblem or a device which is displayed by titled persons, persons of royal blood, and their descendants. Coats of Arms were originally used for purposes of identification and recognition on the field of battle as well as in civil life.

It is claimed by some writers that Coats of Arms, in a crude form, were used by Noah's sons after the flood. There are records of other Coats of Arms, in one crude form or another, at different periods of ancient history. Heraldry, however, as we know it today, did not become of much importance until soon after the invasion of England by William the Conqueror, A. D. 1066. Heraldry became of general interest at about the time of the Crusades.

The Jackson Coat of Arms shown in the front of this volume is the Arms of the Jacksons of Duddington, co. Northampton, England, whose pedigree appears in this book. Coats of Arms very similar to it are used by other great Jackson families. Numerous other branches have Coats of Arms resembling it, especially in the incorporation of the greyhound in either crest or shield.

This is the most widely used of all Jackson Coats of Arms and has been in existence for many centuries. It is described in BURKE'S GENERAL ARMORY, BURKE'S LANDED GENTRY, BURKE'S PEERAGE AND BARONETAGE and other reliable works on heraldry, in some cases accompanied by illustrations and pedigrees. It has been used for generations by many American branches of the Jackson family.

	HERALDIC LANGUAGE	ENGLISH DESCRIPTION
Arms	Argent, a greyhound courant ermines between three eagles' heads erased sable.	On a silver shield, a black and white greyhound (running), between three eagles' heads, all black.
Crest	A demi-horse argent, gutte de sang, maned and hoofed sable.	A silver demi-horse, spotted with red, maned and hoofed with black.

Sir Bernard Burke, of Heralds College, London, said: "Heraldry is prized by all who can show honorable ancestry or wish to found honorable families."

Besides its family significance this Coat of Arms makes an excellent mural decoration and inspires the admiration and comment of all who see it.

It is quite appropriate that members of the Jackson family who have a pride in their ancestry should display the family Coat of Arms, in proper colors.

(I) PROMINENT JACKSONS OF AMERICA, PAST GENERATIONS

ABNER JACKSON: Clergyman; b. near Washington, Pa., 1811; elected to the presidency and a professorship at Hobart College, Geneva, N. Y.; ordained to the ministry by Bishop Brownell, 1838; received the degree of D.D. from Trinity, 1858, and that of LL.D. from Columbia, 1866.

ANDREW: Famous general and 7th President of the United States; b., Waxhaw settlement, on the border between North and South Carolina, 1767; was left an orphan at a very early age, and in 1784 began the study of law at Salisbury, N. C.; was admitted to the Bar when yet under 20; was appointed public prosecutor in (now) Tennessee, 1788, and, in 1796, was a mem. of Congress from that state. He distinguished himself in the war of 1812, defeating the British at New Orleans in the greatest American success on land during the war. Later he figured prominently in the Indian wars, until, in 1822, he again entered political life, and began the career which, in 1828, culminated in his election to the Presidency. His eight tumultuous years as Chief Executive brought him both praise and blame, but, in spite of his faults, he was one of the most commanding personalities in all American history.

CHARLES DAVIS: D.D.; clergyman; b., Salem, Mass., 1811; officiated as rector of St. Luke's Church, Rossville, Staten Island, and at St. Peter's, Westchester, N. Y., from 1843 until 1871.

CHARLES LORING: Chemist; b., Boston, Mass., 1847; was a mem. of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and of the National Academy of Sciences. The present knowledge of the haloid benzyl compounds is due almost exclusively to his investigations.

CHARLES THOMAS: Scientist; b., Plymouth, Mass., 1805; in 1834 constructed and demonstrated a telegraph instrument, similar to that patented by Morse a year later; in 1838 opened, at Boston, the 1st chemical laboratory in the United States, and, in 1852, discovered the anaesthesia produced by ether, in recognition of which he was honored and decorated by many of the great European governments.

CLAIBORNE FOX: Statesman; b., Fleming Co., Ky., 1807; emigrated to Missouri, 1822, and was elected Governor of the State, 1860. He made a vain attempt to protect the state from the invasion of Gen. Lyon's army and, later, entered the Confederate forces with the rank of brigadier-general.

CONRAD FAEGER: Soldier; b. in Penna., 1813; was connected with Penna. and Reading R. R. before the Civil War. In 1861 he joined the army, and in 1862 was made brigadier-general, participating in the battles of South Mountain and Antietam. He was killed at Fredericksburg while at the head of a column of attack.

DAVID: Physician; b., Oxford, Pa., 1747; appointed hospital physician and surgeon in 1780, and was in service at Yorktown when Cornwallis surrendered in 1781. He was a delegate to Congress in 1785, and spent his later years as an apothecary in Philadelphia.

EDWARD PAYSON: Author; b., Erzeroum, Turkey, 1840; the s. of American missionaries; came to the U. S. in 1845 and grad., Amherst, 1870; served in 45th Mass. Regiment during Civil War, and then became Master in the Boston Latin-School. He was the author of several books, including "A Demi-God" (Boston, 1886).

FRANCIS: Reformer; b., Newton, Mass., 1789; was a mem. of the city government of Boston; president of the Anti-Slavery Society, and the originator of various public improvements there.

GEORGE: Canadian M. P.; b., Hatton, England, 1809; went to Canada in 1844, and, in 1848, was appointed crown lands agent for Bruce and Grey Counties; was elected to the Dominion Parliament in 1878, and became a follower of Sir John MacDonald.

GEORGE WASHINGTON: Engineer; b., Chicago, Ill., 1861; was a leading authority on cement construction in the U. S. and president of a prominent firm of contractors in Chicago; was a mem. of many clubs and societies, including the American Academy of Sciences.

HELEN MARIA FISKE: Author; b., Amherst, Mass., 1831; contributed to periodical literature under the signature "H. H."; m. William S. Jackson, banker, of Colorado Springs, 1875, and was appointed special commissioner to examine the condition of the Mission Indians of Calif., 1883.

HENRY: Soldier; b., Boston, 1747. For a record of his military career see Chapter (H).

HENRY: Clergyman; b., Providence, R. I., 1798; grad., Brown, 1817; ordained pastor of the 1st Baptist Church of Charlestown, Mass., 1822, and founded the Charlestown Female Seminary; was both founder and trustee of the Newton Theological Seminary.

HENRY: Educator; b., Moreton-Hampstead, England, 1778; came to America at age of 12; grad., Medical Coll. of Phila., and was appointed professor in the Univ. of Ga., 1811. He was sent to Paris in 1814 as secretary of the legation in France, and remained there as charge d'affaires until 1817.

HENRY ROOTES: Soldier; b., Athens, Ga., 1820; s. of Henry, educator; grad., Yale, 1839; became U. S. charge d'affaires at court of Austria, 1853, and later was resident Minister there. He served as brigadier-general in the Confederate Army, in command on the upper Potomac in 1863; and was under Hood in his expedition to Tennessee in 1864. In 1885 he was appointed U. S. Minister to Mexico, but soon resigned.

HOWELL EDMUNDS: Jurist; b., Paris, Tenn., 1832; served in Legislature as both Representative and Senator, and was appointed U. S. District Judge for the western district of Tenn. in 1886.

ISAAC W.: Educator; b., Cornwall, N. Y., 1805; grad., Union Coll., 1826, and later served as a professor there.

JAMES: Soldier; b., Moreton-Hampstead, England, 1757; came to the U. S., 1772, and studied law at Savannah, Ga.; served in the U. S. Congress, and saw adventurous service throughout the Revolutionary war. For a record of his military career see Chapter (H).

JAMES: Jurist; b., Jefferson Co., Ga., 1819; grandson of James, soldier; Judge of Superior Court, 1846-59, and Judge-Advocate of Stonewall Jackson's corps throughout the Civil War; appointed Chief Justice of Ga., 1879, and held the office until his death.

JAMES CALEB: Author; b., Manlius, N. Y., 1811; educ. at Chittenango Polytechnic Institute; entered service of Mass. Anti-Slavery Society, 1838, as lecturer; founded, and was proprietor, of the hydropathic institute at Skaneateles Lake, N. Y., and also founded the "Our Home Hygienic Institute," at Dansville, the largest institution of its kind in the world. He was the author of many scientific and medical books.

JAMES STRESHLEY: Soldier; b., Fayette Co., Ky., 1823; grad. in law, Transylvania Univ., 1845; served as lieutenant in Mexican war; elected to Congress as a Unionist, 1860. He was com. brigadier-general of volunteers, and commanded a division of McCook's corps, of the Army of Ohio, at the battle of Perryville, where he was killed.

JOHN ADAMS: Sculptor; b., Bath, Me., 1825; studied under Suisse in Paris; executed many portrait busts of prominent people; also many graceful ideal groups, including "Eve and the Dead Abel," and "Cupid on a Swan."

JOHN DAVIS: Physician; b., Danville, Ky., 1834; served as surgeon during the Civil War, with the Army of Tennessee, and the Army of Northern Virginia; during his service made a valuable report on the results of vaccination among the troops.

JOHN GEORGE: Jurist; b., Va., 1774; served as surveyor of public lands in (now) Ohio, 1793; elected to Va. House of Representatives and to the U. S. Congress; held the office of Judge of the U. S. Court for the western district of Va. from 1819 until his death in 1825.

JOHN KING: Soldier; b., Augusta, Ga., 1825; grad., Columbia Univ., S. C., 1846. At the beginning of the Civil War he raised the 1st Ga. Infantry and the Augusta Volunteer Battalion for the Confederate Army; was made brigadier-general, and commanded a brigade in Bragg's corps at Shiloh; took charge of the Department of Florida in 1864.

JONATHAN: Statesman; b., Boston, 1743; served in Congress and in the U. S. Senate; was treasurer of Mass., 1802-06; president of the state bank there, and treasurer of Harvard until his death.

CHARLES: (s. of Jonathan); jurist; b. Newburyport, Mass., 1775; Judge of the Mass. Supreme Court, 1813 to 1824; attained high rank in his career at the Bar.

JAMES: (s. of Jonathan); physician; b., Newburyport, 1777; instrumental in founding the Somerville Asylum, and the Mass. General Hospital in Boston; president of the Mass. Medical Society and the author of many important articles and books.

PATRICK TRACY: (s. of Jonathan); merchant; b. 1780; acquired a large fortune in the India trade in Boston; directed the entire construction of a railroad between Lowell and Boston.

JOSEPH COOKE: lawyer; b., Newark, N. J., 1835; breveted brigadier-general at battle of Fredericksburg, 1865; served as Com. of U. S. Naval Credits, saving the state from the expenditure of nearly a million dollars; later was appointed District Attorney for the southern district of New York.

MERCY BISBEE: Physician; b., Hardwick, Mass., 1802; first woman admitted to the American institute of homeopathy, Phila., 1871. She was an active worker for the cause of temperance and woman suffrage; addressed large audiences, and contributed to the "Woman's Journal."

(K) JACKSON TOWNS, ETC.

There are in the United States towns as follows:

JACKSON: Ala., Calif., Ga., Ky., La., Mich., Minn., Miss., Mo., Mont., Nebr., N. H., N. C., Ohio, Pa., Tenn., Wis., Wyo.; JACKSONBORO: S. C.; JACKSONBURG: W. Va.; JACKSON CENTER: Ohio, Pa.; JACKSON CORNERS: N. Y.; JACKSON HEIGHTS: N. Y.; JACKSON HILL: N. C.; JACKSON JUNCTION: Iowa; JACKSON PARK: Ill.; JACKSONPORT: Ark., Wis.; JACKSONS CREEK: N. C.; JACKSONS GAP: Ala.; JACKSON SPRINGS: N. C.; JACKSON STREET: Tex.; JACKSON SUMMIT: Pa.; JACKSONTOWN: Ohio; JACKSONVILLE: Ala., Ark., Fla., Ga., Ill., Maine, Mo., N. Y., N. C., Ohio, Oregon, Pa., Tex., Vt.; JACKSONVILLE BEACH: Fla.; JACKSONWALD: Pa. There are also in the United States numerous counties, townships, streets, avenues, etc., bearing the name "Jackson." This is eloquent testimony to the high esteem in which the name is held in this country.

(L) JACKSON CENSUS OF THE UNITED STATES

The compiler of these records has made up a list from city and telephone directories of the United States, and from other sources, as follows. Care was taken to eliminate, wherever possible, persons known or believed to be colored, or of nationalities other than British and American:

Alabama	310	Maine	141	Oklahoma	326
Arizona	55	Maryland	146	Oregon	55
Arkansas	118	Massachusetts	469	Pennsylvania	999
California	895	Michigan	592	Rhode Island	149
Colorado	246	Minnesota	206	South Carolina	16
Connecticut	180	Mississippi	73	South Dakota	12
District of Columbia	239	Missouri	494	Tennessee	262
Delaware	59	Montana	86	Texas	1147
Florida	279	Nebraska	112	Utah	112
Georgia	352	Nevada	20	Vermont	36
Idaho	34	New Hampshire	57	Virginia	189
Illinois	1119	New Jersey	650	Washington	211
Indiana	451	New Mexico	23	West Virginia	183
Iowa	236	New York	1361	Wisconsin	120
Kansas	241	North Carolina	97	Wyoming	14
Kentucky	241	North Dakota	14
Louisiana	98	Ohio	1122	Total	14,647

To secure an estimate of the "Jackson population" of the United States, we figure as follows:

	(a) multiply by
Only about half the names were taken from each directory consulted	2
Half of the Jacksons reside in the rural districts or in small towns having no printed directories which were available to us	2
There is an average of more than four persons in each American family	4
Since Jackson daughters marry and have as many descendants as the Jackson sons, there are as many descendants of "other names" as there are bearing the name Jackson (though it is much easier to locate the latter)	2
By multiplying each figure of column (a) into the preceding figure, we have a total of	32
Conservative estimate of the Jackson population of the United States, one-half of whom bear the name Jackson and one-half of whom bear other names	468,704

The estimated Jackson population of any of the states may be obtained by multiplying the figures shown by 32. There are Jacksons in every state of the Union. The Jackson population of the British Empire is probably equal to that in the United States.

(M) RELIGIONS OF THE JACKSONS

For several centuries the Jacksons lived in England, North Ireland and Scotland. Most of the British (with the exception of those living in South Ireland), and, likewise, the Jacksons were and are of the Protestant faith.

There are a few Jacksons of the Catholic faith in the British Isles, but it is estimated that their number does not exceed two per cent. of the entire Jackson population.

The Jacksons who came from the British Isles to America continued in the faith of their fathers, for the most part, though their descendants in this country today will be found in the memberships of practically all the various churches. It is estimated that of all the Jacksons in America who are church members, at least ninety-seven per cent. are of the Protestant faith.

Biographical Sketches of 54 Jacksons appear in WHO'S WHO IN AMERICA. Their religious faiths are shown as follows: CHRISTIAN SCIENCE, 1; CONGREGATIONALIST, 3; EPISCOPAL, 5; METHODIST, 6; PRESBYTERIAN, 3; UNITARIAN, 1; OTHER PROTESTANTS, 1; RELIGION NOT STATED, 34.

(P) Family Records and Genealogies

Published by and for sale by AMERICAN HISTORICAL-GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY
Compiled by

J. MONTGOMERY SEAVER, Genealogist

The contents are similar in all of these books. The larger ones contain more detail, especially on the American families. All of them contain the family Coat of Arms.

Hand-paintings of the Coats of Arms, and stationery with the Coats of Arms die-stamped in gold, can be furnished on each of these families.
